CABINET RESIGNS. Lima, Peru, Oct. 21.—The Peruvian cabinet resigned today.

SZILVANSKY ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE

Formal Complaint Filed Against Alleged Slayer of Thomas R. Karrick.

Julius Szilvansky, who is alleged to have murdered Thomas R. Karrick, 150 Thirteenth East street, October 12, was arraigned before Judge J. J. Whitaker at the county jail yesterday afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree. The young Hungarian entered a plea of not guilty. To guard against any possible attempt to seize Szilvansky when he was arraigned, Sheriff Joseph D. Sharp brought the prisoner from the state prison to the county jail. Judge Whitaker was secretly summoned to the county jail in company with J. H. Canning, clerk of the police court. Szilvansky pretended to be very deaf and dumb and refused to read the complaint several times. The Hungarian finally signified that he understood the charges against him, and he was arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree. After he had pleaded not guilty he said that he had killed Karrick, but he later made the sign of a cross about his neck and smiled sardoniously. When asked, "As soon as possible, the sooner the better."

AMUSEMENTS

ATTRACTIONS TODAY.

Salt Lake theatre—Rose Stahl in "The Girl in the Red Dress," 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Orpheum theatre—Vaudeville, 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Garrick theatre—William Ingersoll and company in "The Bar-B-Q," 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Shubert theatre—The Curtis Musical Stock company in "The Girl and the Prince," 3 p. m., 7:45 p. m. and 9:15 p. m. Luna, Isis and Elite theatres—Moving pictures and illustrated songs, 2:15 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. Mission theatre—Moving pictures afternoon and evening.

A well-known New York critic characterized Rose Stahl's portrayal of the role of Patricia O'Brien in James Porter's comedy, "The Girl in the Red Dress," as "As great as Warfield's 'Music Master,' Mrs. Carter's 'Zaza,' and Mr. Mansfield's 'Cheerful.' The critic is one of many unusual qualities and as played by Miss Stahl proves to be one of the most refreshing types seen on the American stage in many a day. Miss Stahl in the Forbes play will be seen here for the last time this afternoon and tonight.

Orpheum theatre. "Jack, the Giant Killer," a dramatization of the famous fairy tale, with Geo. Auger in the role of Grim Goblin, the giant, will be the feature attraction at the Orpheum during the week. The play opens tomorrow afternoon. This week's bill will be given twice more, this afternoon and evening.

Colonial theatre. John O. Hart, well-known theatrical manager, will present the Colonial for five nights, starting Sunday, the popular actor, Max Fagan, in the first success, "The Girl in the Red Dress," a splendid impersonation of Hiram Perkins in Edith Ellis' homespun comedy, "Max Fagan's 'The Girl in the Red Dress'." The most artistic things this fine actor has yet done.

Garrick theatre. Only two more performances of "The Bar-B-Q" will be presented at the Garrick by William Ingersoll and company. The production of the week has been generally acknowledged to be one of the best yet presented by the popular company at this popular theatre. The play does not lack in action or heart interest, but on the contrary it is filled with exciting situations, and not one dull moment is experienced. All week long, the Garrick will play the great society drama by J. V. Pritchard, and will be the offering and will undoubtedly receive the support as all of Mr. Ingersoll's productions deserve.

Shubert theatre. With this afternoon's matinee at the Shubert theatre, the Allen Curtis Musical Stock company will be in the Shubert on the nineteenth week of its engagement in Salt Lake, presenting "The Girl and the Prince."

Luna, Isis and Elite theatres. Beginning this afternoon the Luna, Isis and Elite theatres will play motion picture and illustrated song bills.

Benefit concert. The program which will be given at the benefit concert for the Orphan Home and Day Nursery in the Salt Lake theatre Monday evening, October 24, will be of a popular and well artistic character, designed to please all classes of music lovers as well as trained musicians. Miss Mary Kinball will sing three operatic arias and groups of English songs. Miss Sylvia Smith will play several of her big numbers, and William Veltie will give a magnificent composition by Liszt.

Gratifying to those who have the interests of the orphans of the home at heart.
